Of The Expenditures In Recent Primary Campaign--Believes No Possible Good
Can Come From It.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 13.—Senator Jos. H. Stout of Monrovia is opposed to any investigation by the legislature into the expenditures in the recent primary election. "I am opposed to the investigation for the reason that I cannot see that any particular good can accrue from it. Now I do not wish to have it inferred from this statement that I favor the expenditure of money on election campaigns. I am opposed to it, and believe the legislature should be adopted to eliminate the money element from the campaign."

RULER OF MONACO IS 60 YEARS OLD

Sovereign on Monte Carlo, World Famous Gambling Casino, Receives Congratulations.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Monte Carlo says that flags were everywhere displayed throughout Monaco today in celebration of the sixtieth birthday of Prince Albert, the reigning prince of the little Mediterranean principality which derives its entire revenues from the world-famous gambling casino of Monte Carlo.

Prince Albert at the present time is absent from his little domain on one of his scientific expeditions. His chief delight is marine dredging, and he has often told his friends that if the state of his finances did not depend on the Monte Carlo tables he would have long since ordered their suppression.

The prince draws $250,000 a year from the syndicate which controls the gambling privileges. The heir to the throne is Prince Louis, a son of Prince Albert by his first wife, Lady Mary Hamilton, who was the sister of the Duke of Hamilton. He was divorced from her in 1880 and several years later married the widow of the Duke of Richelieu. She was originally Miss Alice Helme of New Orleans, and her father was a wealthy New York banker.

Prince Albert's one passion is the study of oceanography. He has published many volumes on this subject and in order to be better able to pursue his investigations he had built at enormous expense a vessel equipped with scientific apparatus and fitted with a glass bottom for observations of the ocean bed.

ROCK COUNTY WELL TO THE FRONT NOW

Third In List of Rural Teachers in the State According to Reports Made.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 13.—In respect to the number of rural school teachers, Rock county stands fourth in the entire state of Wisconsin. Grant county is first, Dodge second and Dodge third. This was disclosed by the annual audit of expenses for county teachers' institute expenses as made by State Superintendent Cary and filed with the Secretary of State in accordance with chapter 476, laws of 1905. For each teacher reported the state pays this year 33 cents toward expenses of conducting the institutes. The total number of teachers thus reported in the state is 8,895 and the total amount of money apportioned to the state is $2,939,565, being as close to the $3,000,000 appropriation as one could get. Dodge and Rock are the only two counties in Wisconsin which have more than one county school superintendent. Each of these counties having two. This audit is interesting in showing the counties in which the rural school system is strongest. While Milwaukee is larger than any other county in population and wealth, it does not stand high in respect to rural schools. The twelve leading counties in this respect are as follows, together with the number of teachers and contribution received by each:

Counties	Teachers	Amount
Grant	357	$312.83
Dodge	325	$282.60
Dane	325	$282.60
Dodge	325	$282.60
Rock	325	$282.60

ISLAND OF CUBA ON EVE OF NATIONAL ELECTION

Plan Of United States Is To End The Provincial Government With This Election.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Havana, November 13.—Cuba is on the eve of its presidential and congressional elections, which, according to the program arranged by the United States Government, are to end the provisional interregnum and, once more, place the island's governmental affairs into the hands of the Cubans. The elections will be held tomorrow and today the waves of political excitement throughout Cuba are running high. For the office of president only two candidates are in the field, General Jose Miguel Gomez, the coalition candidate of the two factions of the Liberal party, and General Mario Garcia Menocal, nominated by the Conservatives.

The system of election closely resembles that employed in the United States at national and state elections. The number of electors to be voted for is 107, distributed among the various provinces as follows: Pinar del Rio 14; Havana 26; Matanzas 14; Santa Clara 22; Camaguey 12; Oriente 22. In addition to the electors 33 alternates, also distributed among the provinces, are to be voted for. In accordance with the provisions of the Constitution the electors chosen shall meet one hundred days after the election, when they will organize and cast their vote for president and vice president.

At tomorrow's election ninety-six senatorial electors shall be chosen, and these, with the forty-eight provincial councilmen now in office, shall constitute the electoral board. The Cuban Senate will consist of twenty-four senators, four from each province. They will serve eight years and one half shall be elected every four years. One half of the senatorial electors must belong to the class of the "largest taxpayers."

There is little doubt in the mind of those who are well informed concerning the political situation in Cuba that General Gomez will be elected president, his running mate and former opponent, Dr. Alfredo Zayas Alphonso, vice president. Both are men of great popularity and headed the two factions into which the Liberal party was split. It is stated that Dr. Zayas consented to become candidate for the vice presidency only with the condition that there would be no opposition to his nomination for the presidency four years hence.

Political conditions in Cuba are so peculiar that it is practically impossible to give a clear statement of the issues at stake in tomorrow's election.

TO INVESTIGATE THE DEATH OF A PATIENT

Insane Patient Found Hanging to a Ventilator--Board of Control
Starts Investigation.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 13.—The state board of control is making an investigation today of the death of Sarah Burdison, whose dead body was found last evening hanging from a ventilator in the state insane asylum at Mendota.

C. H. HEMINGWAY, CANDIDATE F STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

near here. The woman was 38 years old. She obviously committed suicide by hanging herself with a rope made by tearing a bed sheet into shreds and twisting them together. What the state board of control wants to know is how inmates of the asylum, supposedly placed there for safe keeping, are able to make ropes and take their own lives without being seen or suspected by the authorities or attendants until it is too late. There have been a number of incidents at the asylum that the board will investigate. There is no suggestion that Superintendent Garret may be removed, but the board desires to maintain the hospital in a state of highest possible efficiency, and it may be that the trouble lies in the lack of sufficient attendants in proportion to the number of inmates.

STARTED A FIGHT IN COUNTY BOARD

SUPERVISOR S. S. JONES OF CLINTON PRESENTED RESOLUTION.

WAS RULED OUT OF ORDER

Question on Appropriation of $200 for Deputy Hire for School Superintendents.

At this morning's session of the county board, after the request of H. H. Blackard for some of the county insurance had been referred to committee No. 7 and $200 had been appropriated to be used for the investigation of state cases where detective services were required by the district attorney, and a resolution had been passed setting the date for the next meeting on January 12, 1909, Supervisor S. S. Jones of Clinton offered a resolution that started trouble. Alford directly at County School Superintendent H. H. Blackard, Mr. Jones brought about the most heated argument that the county board has enjoyed for some time past. It was an effort of the primary campaign in which Mr. H. H. Blackard was a candidate for district attorney and which became very bitter towards the end. While Mr. Jones was evidently in earnest, his remarks the matter seemed too much of politics and was overruled by Acting Chairman Woodruff.

The resolution which caused the trouble was to the effect that the board reconsider the appropriation of $200 voted at the last May meeting for the hire of a clerk for Superintendent H. H. Blackard, as it was doubtful whether or not it was legal and closely resembled the case where clerk hire was voted to former county Clerk Starr which he was forced to pay back.

This opened a lively discussion in which Mr. Jones played the principal part, making charges against Mr. H. H. Blackard and the manner in which he had done his work. He reiterated the campaign slogan and made some specific charges which were not to be found in them. Reference to Mr. H. H. Blackard's study of law and practice while drawing county pay, his juggling at Madison during the last legislature were among the arguments he used.

The fact that Mr. H. H. Blackard was at present a candidate for the office of president of the state teachers' association was also brought into the matter and questions relative to certain laws passed by the last legislature came up. Charges of a suspension of graft or what might be termed graft were heard and friends of Mr. H. H. Blackard resented the charges made.

After this warm discussion lasting until noon, when the board adjourned, Vice Chairman Woodruff, after the order of the board requiring a motion to reconsider to be made upon the same or the following day that a motion is passed, ruled Mr. Jones' resolution out of order.

Sheriff's Contract
Under the rule adopted by the county board last year the sheriff's salary was made $1,500 and $2,500 was allowed him for caring for prisoners. No other fees were allowed him, thus reducing the sheriff's salary. The contract as drawn up by the special committee and the district attorney was voted upon favorably by the board and signed by Sheriff and L. E. Gottlieb, at yesterday afternoon's session.

Aid to Blind
It was voted yesterday to extend county aid to the following blind in the county: W. P. Ingalls, John Duncan, S. B. Van Alstine, M. Dolanoy, L. G. McCulloch, C. M. Palmer, Wm. Sudler, J. H. Hossler, W. H. Hyde and C. A. Whitney. The application of Sarah J. Sage was referred back to the committee for further information on the applicant.

The report of committee No. 10 was adopted and made the special order of business for Friday afternoon. A number of other reports and resolutions were submitted, among them the report of the Soldiers' Relief Committee, No. 11. The board then adjourned until Friday morning.

At this afternoon's session of the board the report of committee 13 was presented and adopted. Some of the bills in the report were then voted on separately. Committee No. 6 reported in favor of allowing J. C. McGowan to lay water pipes under a certain street in Milton, the report being signed by two members and not by the third. Mr. Pail of the committee held that the street was not a county highway and that the board had no jurisdiction over the same. The board adopted this minority report.

While in connection with the Clayton and Malone matters and with the search for the body of John Hiram, bills were voted on separately and with minor exceptions were allowed. Supervisor McKewen then introduced a resolution authorizing the county clerk to draw orders for the payment of bills not otherwise provided for. Committee No. 10 recommended that the county treasurer be required to furnish a security bond in the amount of $150,000. This report was laid on the table until the report of the amount of taxes should be given as the bond could not be less than the amount of taxes to be levied.

The report of the trustees of the county asylum was then presented to the board. It was planned into this afternoon to continue in session up to six o'clock and finish the business if possible today. The meeting has already extended one day over the usual time.

A DELIGHTFUL PARTY AT HUGH RESIDENCE

House Transformed Into Mystic Maze—First Ball of the Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hough entertained last evening at one of the most elaborate balls ever given in Janesville. Their home, at the corner of Main street and St. Lawrence avenue, was transformed for the evening into a lower of beauty. The elaborate ball room, which covers the entire third floor, was a marvel of tiny electric lights, which displayed the beautiful old rose effects against the ivory pillars and woodwork of the room. The advantage of Hough's orchestra in an alcove surrounded by palms and ferns furnished delightful dance music until two this morning. Another alcove, suitably arranged for the punch bowl, was presided over by two young ladies. On the second floor were card rooms for bridge and a smoking room for the gentlemen with colored servants in attendance. The most charming surprise of the evening came when supper was announced and the guests, in detachments designated by colored ribbons, wandered through a mystic maze of beautiful fern screens placed in the parlors and library to the veranda which had been screened in with large glass windows and heated by steam pipes. Here a heavenly supper was served, Mrs. Houghman being the entertainer. The maze was a work of art and lighted by tiny electric lights caused much merriment as the guests wandered through it seeking the supper room.

TO START LIBRARY IN HER OWN HOME

Ella S. Lacey of Footville Will Have a Circulating Library to Take Place of Public One Disbanded.

The following announcement of Ella S. Lacey of Footville will be read with interest by residents of both Footville and the adjacent country:

Lying in a small town where no library facilities exist, in a section where there are many prosperous farmers, I have decided to start a circulating library. Anyone who enjoys reading good books may have access to the library by paying a membership fee of fifty cents per year. My assets are about one hundred and twenty-five volumes from the Free Public Library, which has been abandoned for lack of funds to run it, and one hundred volumes of my own added to the above number. They consist of biography, history, travel and fiction. There will also be a periodical department. Those not wishing to handle second-hand magazines may subscribe for new ones through me. As there is a certain amount of local pride in the town I believe the library will be a success as well as enjoyable. It will be located in my home, open twice each week, viz., Wednesday and Saturday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock, commencing Wednesday evening, Nov. 11th.

SHERMAN WITH TAFT

Ho Also Is at Hot Springs for Rest and Golfing

SENATORS GATHERING THERE

President-Elect to Speak at Brooklyn Saturday and Spend Night and Sunday as Mr. Roosevelt's Guest in White House.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 12.—Judge Taft was joined here Thursday by Vice-President-elect Sherman, who said he had come to the Virginia mountains to rest and play for a week. He met Judge Taft on the veranda of the Homestead hotel and the two exchanged cordial greetings.

Mr. Sherman spent the afternoon in a game of golf with William L. Ward, national committeeman from New York.

Several Senators There. Representative Theodore E. Burton of Ohio came on the midnight train and will remain here for ten days. Senator Burkett of Nebraska spent the day here. He came for the purpose of discussing coming legislation. Mr. Burkett said he found Judge Taft in favor of pushing the postal savings bank bill at the next session of congress. He laid before the president-elect a plan for legislation authorizing the issuance of bonds to pay for permanent public improvements.

Senator Scott of West Virginia and Mrs. Scott came to spend some time, as did Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon. Senator Scott is in hearty favor of immediate tariff revision. He said he believed it could be accomplished at the short session of congress to begin next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft were the guests of honor at a dinner at the Homestead hotel Thursday night given by Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Holmes of Kentucky. Other guests were Gov.-elect and Mrs. Eben S. Draper of Boston, Miss Mary Patton of Washington and Mr. Ekergaard of Norway.

Taft to Visit Roosevelt. Washington, Nov. 12.—At the White House Saturday night and Sunday President-elect William H. Taft will be the guest of President Roosevelt, having accepted an invitation from the latter to stop here on his return from New York city en route to Hot Springs.

While Mr. Taft is at the White House he will have an opportunity to confer with the president on a number of matters about which each desires to secure the advice of the other.

It will be the first time that the president and Mr. Taft have seen each other since the election. Naturally personal felicitations on the outcome of that event will be the first thing on the program. Then the president's message to congress probably will be in shape for Mr. Taft's perusal. Mr. Taft's cabinet probably will be discussed and other questions of minor importance undoubtedly will receive consideration.

Taft to Speak in Brooklyn. President-elect Taft's trip to New York city is for the purpose of making a speech at the dedication of the prison ship martyrs' monument in Fort Greene park, Brooklyn. He promised to deliver the address a long while ago. He will reach New York city early Saturday and, immediately after the ceremonies at the monument in the afternoon, will leave for Washington, arriving here at 11:30 p. m.

On Sunday morning he will attend religious services with the president, probably at the president's church. When Mr. Taft was the president's guest about ten days before the election the president attended Mr. Taft's church with him.

The state commissioners met Thursday evening and fixed the state tax rate at 50 cents on the hundred dollars of assessed value.

Friend of the Farmers Dead. Atchison, Kan., Nov. 12.—T. B. Gerow, state employment agent, died Thursday night at his home in this city, aged 62 years. Every year Mr. Gerow looked after the harvest hand question. Through his efforts thousands of bushels of wheat which would have been lost through the shortage of hands, were saved to the farmers.

LOSE FOUR PLAYERS FOR DEFICIENCIES

Monroe High School Team Crippled Through Conditioning of Players

Monroe, Wis., Nov. 12.—Four of the high school football players have been conditioned because of deficiency in stow and will not be able to play with the team against Fort Atkinson a week from Friday when it was expected Monroe would defeat the "Fort." Lana, Trickle, Chilson, and Collettino, four of the best players on the team, will not be able to play in next week's game and the team will be greatly crippled. All hope of playing Madison high here on this coming Saturday was abandoned when it was learned the four men were "coned," and it would be impossible to train substitutes to fill their places by that time. Supt. G. R. Haverson, who assumed charge of the schools here this year, has been extremely rigid with the football players and on the night before the team went to White-water several weeks ago to play the normal eleven he prevented three of the team from going into the game because they were behind in their studies.

The paving of the public square was considered by the county board at its meeting yesterday and the matter will be taken up again Friday morning when it will be settled. The proposition is for the county to bear half of the expense and the city of Monroe the other half of the cost of construction which will be about $22,000. D. S. Young, a supervisor from the First ward of this city, opposed the plan in the board meeting and added more than any other in "dampening" the project. The plan is also meeting with opposition from supervisors in distant parts of the county and the vote will be close when it comes up for final decision. County Superintendent of Schools J. C. Penn, in his annual report to the county board, shows that the salaries of teachers throughout the county averages $39 a month, being a slight increase over previous years, and points out where the rural schools are now using uniform text books where no attention was paid to uniformity eight or ten years ago. One hundred and ninety-four teachers were employed in the county the last year and 2,145 children between the ages of 4 and 20 years in the county attended school twenty-four weeks or more last year.

Loquacity. Gratiano speaks an infinite deal of nothing, more than any man in all Venice; his reasons are as two grains of wheat hid in two bushels of chaff; you shall seek all day ere you find them; and when you have them, they are not worth the search.

Advance in Price of Eggs. The price of eggs in England has advanced greatly in late years. The value of last year's home product was $2,500,000 greater than that of 12 years ago.

CASTRO PLACES GUNS TO GREET THE DUTCH

Venezuelan President and Merchants Prepare for the Blockade Threatened by Holland.

Caracas, Nov. 1.—via New York, Nov. 12.—President Castro has made all preparations to combat the threatened blockade by Dutch warships. He has caused batteries of mountain artillery to be placed above La Guaira, the chief seaport, and any attempt to land there will meet with stout resistance.

Not only have the Venezuelan army and navy made preparations for a blockade, but also the merchants of both La Guaira and Caracas. All of the salt in La Guaira was purchased by a prominent politician and the entire stock of the flour mill was acquired by influential interests. Unusually large importations of rice and other provisions have been received from Europe by the principal importers, who instructed their European connections to make heavy shipments if they were convinced, after making investigation, that Holland meant business.

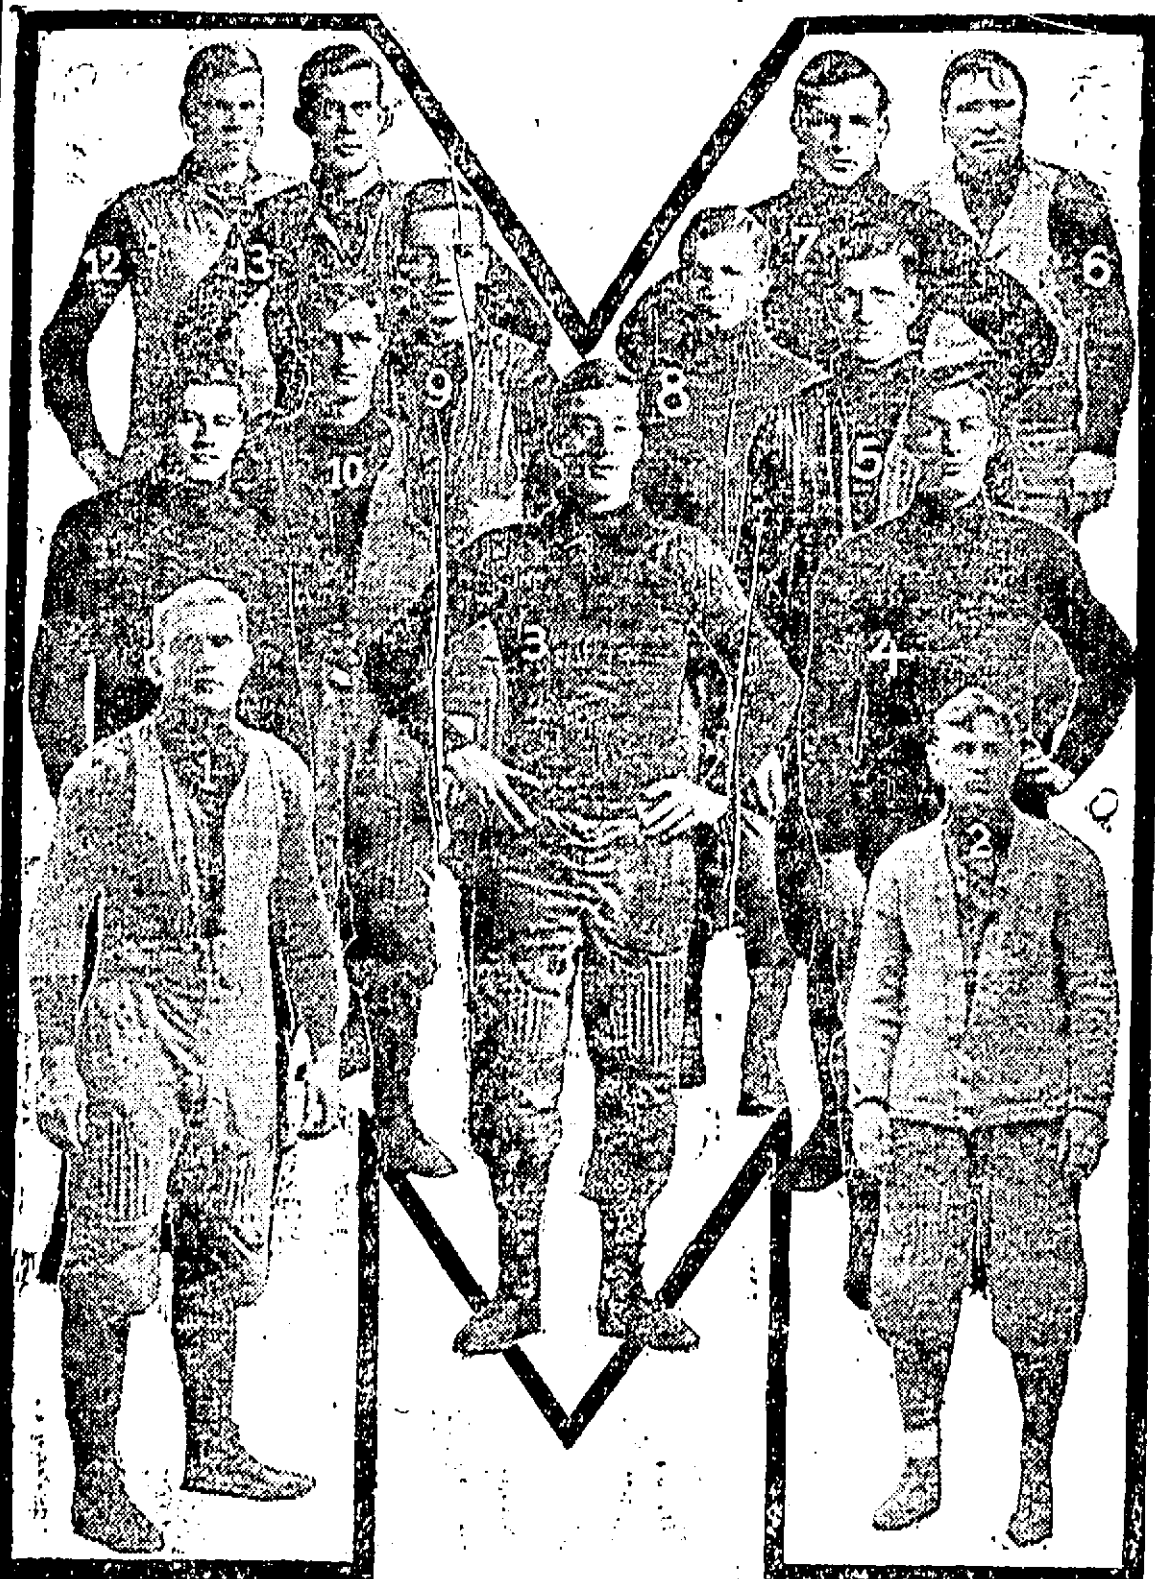

The merchants of La Guaira received their greatest shock, which at the same time confirmed their belief that affairs were coming to a crisis, when the collector of customs issued an order to the merchants that they would be compelled to remove all their merchandise from the custom house and pay all the duties by October 31. Stagnation in all lines of trade has been the result of the present uncertainty and great losses will develop during the period of expectancy.

ICEMAN SLAYS HIS RIVAL.

Hits Him with Tonga Which Pierces His Brain.

New York, Nov. 12.—A pair of ice tongs were used with deadly effect Thursday to settle a feud that has existed between two East side ice men, Louis Schneider and Harry Fourstein, for several years. Until recently the men have supplied the same district, but last month decided to divide the territory. Fourstein heard that Schneider had accused him of acting unfairly and he went to the latter's establishment and started for Schneider with a knife. Schneider, according to witnesses, grabbed a pair of tongs and struck at the head of his rival. The tongs opened and one of the prongs buried itself in the brain of Fourstein, killing him almost instantly.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST.

Probably snow flurries tonight or Saturday, continued cool.

RECUPERATIVE ENERGY

When the Chicago fire demolished the great city, leaving widespread ruin and disaster in its trail, people stood aghast, and doubt was expressed as to whether the city would be rebuilt, but before the ghastruck iron and hot brick had time to cool the work of recovery was commenced, and out of the ruins sprang a new city better by far than the old.

This experience was repeated at Galveston, after the flood, and is now being repeated in San Francisco, where nature and the elements combined in the work of destruction.

These evidences of pluck and courage are characteristic of the American people, for they never know when they are beat, and as a result seldom suffer defeat.

The same spirit is recognized today in the rapid strides making toward recovery from the effects of the late panic. A year ago the stock and bond market was so badly demoralized that American securities were a by-word, both at home and abroad.

Railroads and many of the great industries were at a standstill, because, through loss of confidence, money was in hiding, and refused to invest. The rapid pace at which the nation had been traveling resulted in all sorts of wild and visionary reform movements, and vicious legislation in many states contributed to general demoralization.

But a disposition prevailed to make the best of bad conditions and so gradually an era of sanity and common sense was established. The financial world weeded out the gambler, and trust funds came to be regarded as sacred.

The people took time to think, and as a result of this self-communion they decided to elect Taft to the presidency, and forever silence the fanaticalism of Bryanism.

That they acted wisely, every day confirms. Even the southern democrats rejoice and reports from Texas say that the boom commenced to lay the next morning.

The American people possess wonderful powers of recuperation and before the new year is launched, the scars of the panic will be largely forgotten.

The tragic death of Harry Watterson, son of the veteran Louisville editor, calls for sympathy to the bereaved father, who is well advanced in years, and whose name is a household word, especially in the south where he has long been known as "Marion Henry." Col. Watterson has long been a national character and a recognized leader of the substantial wing of the democratic party. He was a friend and adviser of the late President Cleveland. The people mourn with him in his sudden bereavement.

The President's dinner party appears to have been ill-timed, and his slight of Gompers is taken up by labor leaders generally and regarded as a personal insult. Gompers failed so utterly in his efforts to defeat the republican ticket that a little magnanimity on the part of the President would have been better than placing him in position to pose as a martyr.

The county board is to be commended for voting aid to its worthy blind citizens, many of whom are dependent in greater or less degree, and through no fault of their own. Agencies of work for the blind are extremely limited. This is especially true of women to whom the county pension fund will come as a Godsend.

TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY AT TOP AND VICTOR B. METCALF AT BOTTOM.

There seems to be a general impression that Secretary of the navy Metcalf is to leave cabinet circles on the fourth of next March. Secretary Metcalf is credited with a desire to get into the California senatorial canvass in a hope that he may be chosen to represent his native commonwealth in the upper house of congress. Whatever his future plans are, every one seems to be agreed that he is to retire from cabinet circles when President Roosevelt turns the reins of government over to his successor. There seems to be a general impression that his successor may be Truman H. Newberry of Detroit, Mich., who is at present assistant secretary of the navy under Metcalf. Newberry has been a staunch Taft enthusiast for many months. He stands extremely well in naval circles and is thoroughly in love with the work in the navy bureau. It is not at all improbable that Michigan will thus furnish Mr. Taft with his secretary for the naval portfolio.

Mr. Newberry is a comparatively young man and a man of great wealth. He is extremely popular and would be highly acceptable to Washington as a presidential advisor.

CONSUMPTION AND DENTISTRY.

It is the general accepted belief among professional medical men that consumption comes from infections through the stomach as much as from the lungs.

We are continually breathing in millions of disease germs. If teeth are decayed, these germs lodge in the decayed spots and multiply by the thousands. They then pour into the stomach and multiply still faster.

This is true not only of the tubercular germs, but of all other disease germs and it is well to see that your teeth are in good shape so as to prevent sickness.

The teeth are of great importance to your health—possibly more than you ever thought.

It is a long story, but I will be glad to have you call for a pleasant visit at any time and talk over the subject with you.

You need not feel obligated to have the work done at once.

Mother's Hairpin

The doorbell broke the other day.
Pop couldn't make it ring.
Said he: "I'll have to get a man to fix the blamed old thing."
My mother said: "Oh, don't do that.
Think what you'll have to pay."
And then she took a hairpin out
And fixed it right away.

We lost the back door key last week.
"Twice when the door was locked;
Pop fumed around and said things (ill
The neighbors were all shocked;
Then Mom she got a hairpin out
An' poked, an' pretty quick
She had the bolt turned in the lock;
The hairpin did the trick.

There's nothing much that Mom can't

With hairpins, seems as like,
One day she'll fix Pop's busted watch.

339 DIE IN A MINE

Horrible Explosion Occurs in a Westphalian Shaft.

FIRE HEADS OFF RESCUERS

Few of the Victims Are Brought to the Surface and the Others Are Given Up for Dead—Cause of Disaster Unknown.

Hamm, Westphalia, Germany, Nov. 13.—Three hundred and thirty-nine men met their death early Thursday morning in a terrible explosion and resulting fire in the Radbod mine, three miles from this city.

Of 350 miners working under ground at the time only six escaped without injury. Thirty-five were taken out badly injured and 37 were dead when brought to the mouth of the pit. The remaining 302 have been given up for lost.

Rescue Work Is Hampered. The explosion, which was unusually violent, destroyed one of the shafts, which had to be partly repaired before the rescue work was begun. In addition, the flames and smoke proved almost insurmountable obstacles in the early efforts of the rescuing parties. A special corps, composed of the men who rendered such valuable aid in the terrible mine disaster at Courrières, France, in March of 1906, arrived upon the scene shortly before noon, but were unable to enter the mine, being forced to await the result of the determined efforts of the firemen to keep the flames in check.

Heartrending Scenes at Mine. Momentary heartrending scenes were being enacted at the mine when the dead and wounded were brought to the surface, and there were similar scenes in the town when the injured were transported through the streets to the hospitals.

At one o'clock the fire had made front headway, and later in the afternoon, after a consultation of the engineers, it was decided that any further attempts to rescue the entombed men were vain, owing to the impossibility of entering the galleries. At the same time an order was issued to flood the mine.

First reports indicated that the accident was the result of an explosion of coal dust, but the statements of the injured men render this improbable, and it is not clear just what caused it.

HIRES MEN TO KILL MOTHER. Cold-Blooded Plot of Chicago Woman Is Exposed.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Plotting matricide in the most cold-blooded manner, in order to obtain $7,300, May L. Otis, 36 years old, carried her plans to the point where she believed four days would see their fulfillment, then was arrested by the men who believed her fellow conspirators.

She was to point her mother out to the man she had hired to commit the crime, that he might make no mistake. She had paid over $100 cash and signed a note for $2,400 to procure the commission of the crime. She had outlined in detail how her mother was to be done to death and had warned him that she wanted a "good job" and did not want it to be "any ambulance case."

All her planning was due to the fact that her mother, in a recent will, had made Miss Otis her sole heir. The woman's supposed fellow conspirators were the head of a private detective agency and two city detectives.

MARINE CORPS FOR GARRISONS. It Will Be Withdrawn from Ships of the Navy.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The United States marine corps is to be gradually withdrawn from the ships of the navy, the duties of the corps in the future to be in accordance with an order issued by the president Thursday. These duties will be to garrison navy yards and naval stations, both within and beyond the continental limits of the United States; to furnish the first line of the mobile defense of naval bases, and naval stations beyond the continental limits of the United States; to garrison the Isthmian canal zone, and to furnish such garrison and expeditionary forces for duties beyond the seas as may be necessary in time of peace.

Blaze in Newspaper Office. New York, Nov. 13.—The editorial and composing rooms of the New York American were damaged by fire and water Friday morning to such an extent that the staff of reporters and composers who were engaged in getting out the morning's issue of the paper were compelled to flee to the street.

Favors Amalgamation of Churches. Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 13.—The Oklahoma conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, Thursday adopted a memorial in favor of amalgamation of the northern and southern churches.

Reds Defeat Cuban Ball Players. Havana, Nov. 13.—The Cincinnati National league baseball team Thursday won the first of a series of 12 games with native teams by a score of 3 to 1.

EDGERTON

Edgerton, Nov. 13.—Dr. and Mrs. Harry Keenan, Mr. and Mrs. Clenden Fornum, the Misses Louisa Jessup and Sadie Nelson, and the Messrs.

Ray Farman and Penn Brown, Jr., drove to Janesville last evening to witness the production of "A Stubborn Childerella" at Myers theatre. Mrs. P. Ellingson and daughter Catherine were Janesville visitors Thursday.

G. Baumgartner returned Thursday from Milwaukee, where he and his wife have been visiting for a few days. Mrs. Baumgartner will return on Saturday.

Miss May Spencer went to Chicago this morning to meet her father, John Spencer, who has been spending the past two months with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Nolan of New York, and other relatives in the east.

Miss Wilma Jones of Janesville is a guest at the home of Frank Hurdick.

Miss Elizabeth McManus of Janesville came up Thursday to spend the remainder of the week with Bessie McManis.

E. L. Sheppard is home from the west for a few days. He is now stock solicitor of the new extension of the St. Paul road which keeps him away from home most of the time.

Mrs. Joel Thompson and daughter Venice spent Friday in Ft. Atkinson with Mrs. Thompson's father, John Whitlot.

Mrs. L. L. Sheppard and daughters, Josephine and Jeanette, spent Friday in Janesville. William Strasburg is moving his household effects into his new home on Rollin street. Mrs. W. A. Bentley is spending the week with Mrs. Fred Burpee in Janesville. Mrs. Clarence Shannon is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Carl Atwood of Albion, for a few days.

Mrs. L. P. Cooney and granddaughter of Stoughton are guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ash and other relatives for the remainder of the week. Only Good Breeds Good. Let me assure you once for all that as you grow older if you enable yourselves to distinguish by the truth of your own lives, what is true in those of other men, you will gradually perceive that all good has its origin in good, never in evil.—Ruskin.

Disappointment in Life. Disappointment is one of the greatest things in life, because it always comes on the top of pleasurable anticipations.—Horne Notes.

FARMERS AND WIVES CALL AT WHITE HOUSE

Patrons of Husbandry Received by President—Country Life Commission in South Carolina.

Washington, Nov. 13.—"They are the most prosperous farmers I have ever seen," said President Roosevelt Thursday, as he looked over 500 agriculturists and their wives who had just been presented to him in the White House. They were members of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, now in session here, and each received a hearty greeting from the chief executive, though he made no speech to them.

Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot's address was the feature of the proceedings of the convention. The keynote of the speech was the farmer's duty in co-operating with the government in furthering the objects of the national conservation commission, which seeks to add the individual citizens of the country in controlling water power, rather than to permit that power to be monopolized by a few.

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 13.—Two members of the commission on country life appointed by President Roosevelt, Dr. Walter H. Page of New York and Henry Wallace of Iowa held a public conference here Thursday for the purpose of securing information on the conditions of country life in this state. The conference attracted a large number of farmers, mill men and educators from all sections of the state.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 13.—If plans inaugurated Thursday are brought to a successful issue, an organization will be formed under the direction of Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton association, which will have for its purpose the accomplishment of the objectives of both the Southern Cotton association and the National Farmers' union and include among its membership all those whose interests are in any manner dependent, either directly or indirectly, on the success of the cotton growing industry. The adoption of a resolution to that effect was one of the concluding incidents of the conference of planters and others whose interests are associated in the growth and marketing of the cotton crop.

ROOT DOESN'T WANT TO GO. Says He Is Not a Candidate for the Senate.

Houston, Nov. 13.—In an interview published here Secretary of State Elihu Root stated that he was not a candidate for the United States senate. He said: "I am not a candidate for the senate. There has been a lot of talk about that, but it is all untrue."

You

have heard of stealing red-hot stoves, but up to date there is no record of it being tried with the genuine ROUND OAK. It is a warm proposition when there is a fire in it. The ROUND OAK has a good reputation as a heater.

Someway, it seems to get the heat out into the rooms in a greater volume than others, being carefully fitted and rightly constructed. It is as easily regulated as a lamp. It holds the fire just as desired; simply regulating the drafts gives much, little or medium warmth, and it stays light all its life. It is just as good the tenth or fifteenth year of use.

Contraction and expansion do not affect it. These changes pull other stoves open and put them to the bad in a short time; but not so with the ROUND OAK, for it is put together right.

The people who make it know how, and the curious thing about it is that it does not cost any more than the imitation, and if it did it would be the cheapest stove you ever bought in your life.

Should you start out to look it up, don't forget to see the name "ROUND OAK" on the leg.

When you see that name you'll know it's the genuine.

"This is one of the inspectors, Fritz. Every Round Oak Stove is carefully and thoroughly inspected, insuring every user a perfect stove."

HIRSH WICKWIRE SUITS AND OVERCOATS

The Hirsh-Wickwire hand tailored coats of conservative style, are the highest type of ready-to-wear garments. The Materials Are Better.

And, therefore, P. & G. Naphtha Soap is better than any other naphtha soap.

We are quite willing to tell you what P. & G. Naphtha Soap is made of.

Cocoon oil is one ingredient. Tallow is another. Naphtha is a third. Caustic soda is a fourth.

Most soap manufacturers think that cocoon oil is "too good" to be used in making a laundry soap.

Perhaps it is. But as there is nothing else that is "just as good," we use it. Cocoon oil yields a remarkably profuse suds. It is a wonderful cleanser.

The naphtha in P. & G. Naphtha Soap is important. It loosens the dirt. The other ingredients cleanse.

COMEDY WITH MUSIC
PLEASED BIG HOUSE

"A Stubborn Cinderella" Provided
Three Hours of Uninterrupted Enjoyment at Myers Theatre
Last Night.

Coherent comedy which develops genuine fun with just enough relief in the form of sentimentality and pathos, appropriate music, capable actors and a comely array of dancers and singers, gorgeous costumes, and a splendid scenic investiture, are some of the attributes of "A Stubborn Cinderella," which was presented to a delightful house at the Myers theatre last evening. It was a refreshing and enlightening transcontinental tour, with "old Broadway" left out of the itinerary, and three distinct kinds of atmosphere—Columbia college, Mexican border, and California bathing-beach—were remarkably well coordinated and blended. Homer Mason as "Mac" stood out in the picture as a real personality and his deft and subtle touches in relating the Cinderella story were quite as effective as his broad comedy work in the role of a "campus cut-up." Grace Edmond as the native and impressively innocent heroine was more than pleasing and her vocal work in "When You First Kiss the Last Girl You Love" and other numbers was superb. Jack Rafford, as the scheming "Cecile" Lunt, Lincoln Plumber as "Fat" and Harry Pugh as "Skeeter" were all splendid in their respective roles and both Miss Clara Noelle as "Sallie" and Miss Ethel Dovey as "Lola" charmed and captivated. "Love Me
Just Because," as rendered by Miss Dovey and chorus, was the most effective musical number. The company played to the largest and most enthusiastic audience which has gathered at the Myers theatre in many months.
It will appear at Beloit this evening.

Mrs. Furset.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cookville, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Furset entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the Lutheran church last Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Hodge was there and damage done.

Wedding bells will ring in this village Saturday evening.

PHARMACIST

Tells Facts About Caffeine in Coffee.

"About twelve years ago I stopped coffee," writes a Colo. man, "and began Postum. As a result, instead of being a confirmed dyspeptic as I was for many years, I enjoy good health and am altogether better."

"I formerly weighed 115 lbs., now
140. My waist measure was 28, now
30 inches. Not only this, but I enjoy Postum and my meals, while for years outgoing was an annoyance and often a torture."

"Like an old whiskey toper I always thought I had to have my coffee and then always felt its ill effects in my stomach and on my nerves."

"Now I have so completely lost my taste for coffee, that recently, when a cup was given me by mistake and I tasted it, I found it nauseated me.
On the other hand I not only like the healthful effect of Postum, but the taste is peculiarly agreeable to me."

"I have tried every cereal drink but always come back to Postum. Realizing as I do, the evil effects from the poisonous alkaloid in coffee, and being a Postum Pioneer, I am a very successful missionary."

"One man, a school superintendent, from my recommendation, has had quite as happy an experience with Postum as I have had. My wife has also found great benefit from Postum, as coffee was the only thing which disagreed with her stomach at table."

"Being a graduate in pharmacy I know the alkaloid-caffeine in coffee is a poisonous drug. As there is no drug in Postum I naturally drink it and recommend it to others."

"There's a Reason."

SUPERVISORS VISIT
IMPROVED HIGHWAY

County Board of Green County Familize Themselves With The Work.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monroe, Wis., Nov. 12.—The county board of supervisors visited the improved highway in Sylvester township yesterday afternoon, the being made so that members of the board could familiarize themselves with the work and discuss several townships have petitioned the board for aid in building modern roads. In all $5,000 has been asked of the county by different townships that wish to build in stretch of model road in conjunction with the county. M. M.
Hulbert, county highway commissioner, gave a talk on good roads before the meeting of the board in the morning. A committee of the board appraised the county farm property at $1,922 which is $10,000 higher than the figures of the trustees who appraised the property at what it cost the county instead at what it is now worth. Five candidates, R. D. Gorman, Andrew Lewis, E. T. Gardner, J. C.
Baker and S. P. Schmalz, are out for the election of commissioner of the year. Mr. Baker is the present incumbent. Some trouble is being experienced with the poor commissioners of Rock county who are said to have refused to reimburse Green county for sums that have been expended in aiding poor families in Rock county. A committee of the county board will probably be appointed to confer with the Rock county commissioners on the matter.

ter of Deeds Frank E. Coran, met at

HUNDREDS OF ELDERLY FOLKS ARE GETTING RID OF KIDNEY TROUBLE.

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacy supplied the ingredients for the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much real good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription of simple ingredients making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first-class druggist will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week. If taken according to directions, good results will be apparent from the first few doses.

W.H. MURRAY
"ALFALFA BILL"
OKLAHOMA

WILLIAM H. MURRAY, THE CHAMPION PETITIONER OF THE WORLD

Oklahoma City.—Mr. Murray has just secured the 23,000 names necessary to a petition, whereby the initiative measure regarding the sale of all public school lands may be presented to the people.

This is only one of "Alfalfa Bill's" many evidences of enterprise and hustle. One of the paramount planks of the Democratic platform in the campaign of last year, when the question of the adoption of the state constitution and the election of state officers were the issue, was that declaring the party to be in favor of the sale of the state school lands and against a system of tenancy, but the plank did not give any advice as to the date of sale. The school lands, comprising 2,050,000 acres, are situated on the side of the state which was originally Oklahoma territory, and from that side of the state about half of the members of the legislature were elected. Many of them were given the task of office because of their promise to advocate a bill providing for the sale of the school lands. The measure was about 25,000, and it represented a population of about 65,000. Some of the lessees had held their lands for years and made extensive improvements upon them as well as increased their value through cultivation.

The first state legislature had its hands full of other things and failed to enact a law providing for the sale of the school lands. This incensed a large percentage of the voting lessees and likewise many of their land-owning voting neighbors. The legislature was overwhelmingly Democratic and had waded into deep water, or rather into a net from which extraction was a puzzle. Lessees called on the governor and made their demands. The governor was their friend. He it said to Governor Haskell, credit that in no instance as a public official has he shown himself other than the friend of the common people. William H. Murray, speaker of the lower house of the legislature and president of the constitutional convention, was also the lessee's friend. State Senator J. Elmer Thomas of Lawton was another, and there were dozens of others in officialdom.

The governor and his fellow officers called a meeting of the lessees and under provision of the initiative and referendum law, that had been recently enacted, a law providing for the sale of the lands was initiated. Mr. Murray was the author of the initiative and referendum measure and here he found his first opportunity to place it in active operation. The law required 23,000 names to be placed on a petition, in order that an initiative measure may be the secretary of state be placed before the people as a proposition for election. Mr. Murray set himself about the task of securing the signatures of the required number of petitioners; he spent a good part of the summer at it, and was successful.

The initiative measure provides for the sale of all the state school lands. All bills considered by the legislature provided for the sale only of indemnity and college lands. For the reason that even many of the lessees themselves do not want $80,000,000 worth of lands placed upon the market at once and thus destroy at once for all the last vestige of landed sertage of the school children, this and future generations, many lessees are opposed to the initiative measure.

The most active campaign against the adoption of the measure has been waged by the Oklahoma School Land Preservation League, of which State Senator Roy B. Stafford, editor of the Daily Oklahoman, is president, and Prof. L. J. Abbott, a member of the faculty of the Central State normal, is secretary.

FORTUNE FOR AN OLD WIDOW

Estate Worth $100,000 Comes to a Poor Woman.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Mary Wheeler Somerby of Newburyport, Mass., an aged widow, was declared to be the sole heir to an estate valued at $100,000 by an order filed in the chancery court here Thursday. The property was that of John Wells Russell of East Orange, N. J., who died a year ago, leaving no will. Believing that he had no relatives, the state began proceedings to take over his estate, but a pretentious will was produced bequeathing the property to Mr. Russell's housekeeper. An attempt to probate this will resulted in the conviction of Matthew J. Brady, a Newark lawyer, and subsequent inquiry established the justice of Mrs. Somerby's claim, based on cohabitation. Mrs. Somerby is 80 years old and is said to have been in poor circumstances.

As It Goes.

"I cannot too heartily commend," said the great man in submitting his subordinate's report, "the work I have required him to do in his department."

BEAUTY FOR EVERY WOMAN

(From Chicago Record-Herald)

Beauty is the essence of woman's power (well she knows it). It would not be too much to say that every woman would like to be beautiful—the least vain of her sex would not decline it. A lovely complexion is the essence of beauty. It comes from a multitude of Nature's faults, such as freckles, blemishes, and the use of the following face wash will give the palest skin a delightful glow of health and the soft touch that of a baby's skin. Obtain in your drug store Rose Water, 2 ounces; Cologne Spirit, 1 ounce; Eucalyptus, 4 ounces. Put the Eucalyptus in a pint of hot water (not boiling), and after dissolved, strain and let cool. Then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirit. The daily use of this wash will bring out the latent beauty that is in every skin and cultivate a delicate bloom to the complexion that is at once the envy and the despair of maudlin. The liquid imparts a most soothing and cooling sensation to the face and quickly softens the texture to the atmosphere. It is absolutely harmless.

The Younger Set

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.
Author of "The Fighting Chance," Etc.

Copyright, 1907, by Robert W. Chambers

"Take it, I beg of you," she murmured. "Is it serious?"

"Why, no," he said, his senses clearing. "It was only a rap on the head, and this blood is merely a nuisance. Thank you; I will use your kerchief if you insist. It'll stop in a moment anyway."

"Please sit here," she said—"here where I've been sitting."

He did so, muttering: "What a nuisance! It will stop in a second. You needn't remain here with me, you know. Go in. It is simply glorious."

"I've been in. I was drying my hair."

He glanced up, smiling; then, as the wet kerchief against his forehead reddened, he started to rise, but she took it from his fingers, hastened to the water's edge, rinsed it and brought it back cold and wet.

"Please sit perfectly still," she said. "A girl likes to do this sort of thing for a man."

"If I'd known that," he laughed, "I'd have had it happen frequently."

She only shook her head, watching him unsmiling. But the pulse in her had become very quiet again.

"It's no end of fun in that canoe," he observed. "Gladys Orehill and I work it beautifully."

"I saw you did," she nodded.

"Oh! Where were you? Why didn't you come?"

"I don't know. Gladys called you. I was waiting for you—expecting you. Then Gladys called you."

"I didn't see you," he said.

"I didn't call you," she observed serenely, and after a moment she added, "Do you see only those who call you, Captain Selwyn?"

He laughed. "In this life's cruise a good sailor always answers a friendly hail."

"So do I," she said. "Please hail me after this—because I don't care to take the initiative. If you neglect to do it, don't count on my hailing you any more."

The stain spread on the kerchief. Once more she went to the water's edge, rinsed it and returned with it.

"I think it has almost stopped bleeding," she remarked as he laid the cloth against his forehead. "You frightened me, Captain Selwyn. I am not easily frightened."

"I know it."

"Did you know I was frightened?"

"Of course I did."

"Oh," she said, vexed, "how could you know it? I didn't do anything silly, did I?"

"No; you very sensibly called me Philip. That's how I know you were frightened."

A slow, bright color stained her face and neck.

"So I was silly, after all," she said, sitting at her under lip and trying to meet his humorous gray eyes with unconcern. But her face was burning now, and, aware of it, she turned her gaze resolutely on the sea. Also, to her further annoyance, her heart awoke, beating unwarrantably, absurdly, until the dreadful idea seized her that he could hear it. Disconcerted, she stood up—a straight, youthful figure against the sea. The wind, blowing her dress and her hair across her cheeks and shoulders, fluttered her clinging skirt as she rested both hands on her hips and slowly walked toward the water's edge.

"Shall we swim?" he asked her.

She half turned and looked around and down at him.

"I'm all right. It's stopped bleeding. Shall we?" he inquired, looking at her.

"You've got to wash your hair again anyhow."

She said, feeling suddenly stupid and childish and knowing she was spending stupidly: "Would you not rather join Gladys again? I thought that—"

"Thought what?"

"Nothing," she said, furious at her self. "I am going to the showers. Goodby."

"Goodby," he said, troubled. "Unless we walk to the pavilion together."

"But you are going in again—are you not?"

"Not unless you do."

"What have I to do with it, Captain Selwyn?"

"It's a big ocean and rather lonely without you," he said so seriously that she observed.

"What?" exclaimed Selwyn in disgust.

"Yes; he came ashore with the Furies."

Selwyn flushed a little, but went on cutting the pages of the magazine. When he had finished he flattened the pages between both covers and said, without raising his eyes:

"I'm sorry that crowd is to be in evidence."

"They always are and always will be," smiled his sister.

He looked up at her. "Do you mean that anybody else is a guest at Brookminster?"

"Yes, Phil."

"Alice?"

"Yes."

He looked down at the book on his knees and began to furrow the pages absently.

"This," she said, "have you heard anything this summer—late—about the Rutlives?"

"No."

"Nothing at all?"

"Not a word."

"You knew they were at Newport as usual?"

"I took it for granted."

"And you have heard no rumors—no gossip concerning them—nothing about a yacht?"

"Where was I to hear it? What gossip? What yacht?"

and looked around again and laughed. "It's full of pretty girls just now. Plunge in, my melancholy friend. The whole ocean is a dream of fair women today."

"If they be not fair to me, what care I how fair they be?" he paraphrased, springing to his feet and keeping step beside her.

"Really, that won't do," she said. "Much moonlight and Gladys and the Minister twins convict you. Do you remember that I told you one day in early summer that Sheila and Dorothy and Gladys would mark you for their own? Oh, my inconstant courtier, they are yonder! And I absolve you. Adieu!"

"Do you remember what I told you—one day in early summer?" he returned coolly.

"Don't talk this way!" she said, exasperated under a rush of sensations utterly incomprehensible—stinging, confused emotions that bent almost time to the clamor of her pulses. "Why do you speak of such things?" she repeated, with a fierce little indrawn breath. "Why do you—when you know—when I said—explained everything?" She looked at him fearfully. "You are somehow spoiling our friendship," she said. "And I don't exactly know how you are doing it, but something of the comfort of it is being taken away from me, and don't, don't, don't do it!"

She covered her eyes with her clenched hands for a moment, motionless; then her arms dropped, and she turned sharply, with a gesture which left him alone there, and walked rapidly across the beach to the pavilion.

Chapter 20

UNCLE BEN being the children's hour, Miss Brerell's silence remained unnoticed in the jolly uproar. Besides, Gerald and Boots were discussing the huge house party, lanterns and dance which the Orehill were giving that night for the younger sets, and Selwyn, too, seemed to take unusual interest in the discussion, though Ellen's part in the conference was limited to an occasional nod or monosyllable.

Drina was wild to go and furious at not having been asked, but when Boots offered to stay home she resolutely refused to accept the sacrifice.

"No," she said; "they are pigs not to ask girls of my age, but you may go, Boots, and I'll promise not to be unhappy."

Mrs. Gerard gave the rising signal, and Selwyn was swept away in the rushing herd of children out on the veranda, where for awhile he smoked and drew pictures for the younger Gerards. Later some of the children were packed off for a nap; Billy with his assorted puppies went away with Drina and Boots, ever hopeful of a fox or rabbit; Nina Gerald curled herself up in a hammock, and Selwyn seated himself beside her, an uncut magazine on his knees. Ellen had disappeared.

For awhile Nina swung there in silence, her pretty eyes fixed on her brother. He had nearly finished cutting the leaves of the magazine before she spoke, mentioning the fact of Rosamund Fane's arrival at the Ministers' house, Brookminster.

The slightest frown gathered and passed from her brother's sun-bronzed forehead, but he made no comment.

"Mr. Neorgard is a guest, too," she observed.

"What?" exclaimed Selwyn in disgust.

"Yes; he came ashore with the Furies."

Selwyn flushed a little, but went on cutting the pages of the magazine. When he had finished he flattened the pages between both covers and said, without raising his eyes:

"I'm sorry that crowd is to be in evidence."
